SENIOR PASTOR'S DESK

Happy New Month, welcome to the month of November.

NOVEMBER 2026 - OUR MONTH OF DIVINE ENCOUNTERS

Spiritual impersonation is the root behind false accusations and demonic forces using a person's identity (name, voice, or image) to cause havoc and trade on their glory.

1. Sacrificial Giving vs. Excuses

- The Power of Sacrifice: True spiritual growth requires sacrificial giving (Philippians 4:18-19). Believers must become "seed sowers" who sacrifice resources, time, and intellect to yield a joyful harvest (Psalm 126:5-6).
- The Danger of Excuses: No matter how genuine or justified an excuse is, it cannot replace action. Satan often uses highly legitimate and urgent distractions to make believers miss transgenerational, life-changing moments.

2. Spiritual Impersonation & Craftiness

- The Deception of Jacob: In Genesis 27, Jacob successfully impersonated Esau by wearing his garments and using animal skins to trick a blind Isaac. Both brothers acted craftily: Jacob took the blessing, but Esau was dishonest by hiding the fact that he had already despised and legally sold his birthright for a bowl of porridge (Genesis 25:30-34).
- The Discernment of Nehemiah: In Nehemiah 6, enemies hired a false prophet to trick Nehemiah into hiding in the temple. Unlike Isaac, Nehemiah raised his spiritual "antenna" and defeated the plot through discernment ("Lo, I perceive"), refusing to compromise his position.

3. Symptoms & Practical Safeguards

- Symptoms of Impersonation: When demonic forces trade on your glory or use your identity to do wrong, it manifests as unexplainable hatred, heavy labor without profit, regular strange dreams, and persistent false accusations.
- Guarding Your Life: To block impersonators, you must establish strict personal boundaries:
  - Conceal information: A king's strength is to hide a matter. Do not announce projects prematurely.
  - Hide vulnerabilities: Gaps and weaknesses are not for public consumption.
  - Control access: Do not allow forced familiarity, avoid carrying sealed packages for others, and never let people hold onto mysterious items in your name.
